Ocean Hop To Venezuela

Searchers Seek To Verify Report Of Balloon Landing

CARACAS, Venezuela. (AP) — Aerial searchers tried today to pin down unconfirmed reports from ham radio operators that the British balloon Small World had landed in eastern Venezuela after a transatlantic flight.
 The air search began Friday over the jungle area of the Orinoco River delta.
 The amateur radio operators reported that the balloon and its four passengers had landed near Pedernales, a Venezuelan port on the Atlantic at the northern edge of the wide delta. The town is just 20 miles west of the tip of Trinidad in the British West Indies.

 The report gained strength when Minister of Communications Oscar Machado Zuloaga was quoted in Caracas newspapers as saying the balloon had landed in Venezuela.
 The Civil Aeronautics Authority said, however, that it had nothing to confirm the report. It was supervising the search by a Communications Ministry DC3. After searching for only an hour or two, the plane was forced by darkness to land at Maturin, 60 miles west of Pedernales.
 The Small World cast off from Santa Cruz de Tenerife in the Canary Islands, 65 miles off the coast of Morocco, on Dec. 12. The goal was to drift with the winds to Barbados, some 3,000 miles away in the West Indies Federation.

 Pedernales is about 3,450 miles from the takeoff point and 300 miles southwest of Barbados.
 Those aboard were pilot A. B. Eiloart, 51, a London businessman; his son Timothy, 21, radio-man; navigator Colin Mudie, 31, who crossed the Atlantic in 1952 in a 19-foot whaleboat; and Mudie's wife Rosemary, 30, the cook, photographer and copilot.

Peace Looms In New York Paper Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—A tentative settlement has been reached in the costliest newspaper strike in New York City history. A back-to-work move hinges on a membership vote Sunday by striking deliverers.

The peace formula to end the strike, now in its 18th day, was announced Friday night by the nation's top federal mediator, Joseph F. Finnegan. He expressed himself as "mightily pleased" by the package settlement granting wage increases and other concessions.

The nine struck dailies may be back on the streets by Monday if terms are accepted by the independent Newspaper Mail and Deliverers Union.

Asher Schwartz, union attorney, said union officials are confident the terms will be acceptable to the membership.

The new two-year pact includes a $3.55-a-week pay hike the first year, $1.75 the second year, Columbus Day as a ninth paid annual holiday, and three days paid sick leave a year. The union gave up its demand for a shorter work week. They have been on a 40-hour week.

The agreement represents a compromise of the publishers' original offer of a $7-a-week wage package spread over two years—$4 the first year and $3 the second. Present wages average $103.82 weekly.

Barney Cameron, president of the Newspaper Publishers Assn., termed the peace proposal a redistribution of the $7 package "along lines which the negotiating committee of the drivers' union prefers."

The newspapers involved are the Times, Herald Tribune, Daily News, Mirror, Journal-American, Post, World-Telegram and Sun, Long Island Star Journal and Long Island Daily Press.

Driver Fined In 'Curb' Case

Toronto Man Who Hit Girl Also Jailed

A Toronto man whose car jumped a curb and struck a 12-year-old Glenmoor girl was found guilty of driving while intoxicated today in Municipal Court.

Judge George L. Brokaw fined Robert M. Hitchcock $300 and costs and sentenced him to 10 days in jail. He also suspended Hitchcock's license for six months.

In lecturing the 26-year-old motorist, Judge Brokaw explained he was not accused of driving while drunk but driving while under the influence.

"No one has a right to drive when they have had even one drink," Judge Brokaw commented.

Today's hearing wound up the two-day case. Hitchcock received a continuance Friday to obtain an attorney but none appeared with him this morning.

He was arrested Tuesday afternoon when his car struck Kay Wines, daughter of John Wines of Glenmoor, who was walking in front of the Columbia Theater with her aunt, Mrs. Mary Dean, also of Glenmoor.

Two other motorists were fined for traffic violations today in Municipal Court and a charge against a third was dismissed by Judge Brokaw.

Robert G. Allison, 307 Virginia Ave., was fined $25 and costs for driving left of center. He was cited Friday afternoon by Liverpool Township Constable Wilbert Taylor.

Peace Talks Continue In Plane Strikes

By The Associated Press
 Negotiations continue today between Eastern Air Lines and its striking flight engineers and American Airlines and its striking pilots, with little prospect that the two big carriers will get back in business soon.

In Miami Friday night, federal mediator Warren Lane said of the Eastern strike: "We're right at a stalemate. There's no progress that I can report."

In Chicago American officials awaited word from the Air Lines Pilots Assn. on a seven-point formula worked out by mediators and already agreed on by the company.

Beyond asking clarification on some points of the proposed settlement, the pilots' union gave no indication of coming to an immediate decision.

The Eastern dispute centers about the refusal by 550 flight engineers to accept a company demand that they qualify as jet pilots for emergency purposes.

Eastern has reached agreement with 5,300 members of the International Assn. of Machinists, but the latter will not cross the flight engineers' picket lines.

Eastern has been shut down for more than a month. Pilots for American struck a week ago Friday.

Ohio Counts 19 Dead In Auto Wrecks

Safety Officials Fear More Deaths In Weekend Traffic

By The Associated Press
 Ohio's highway traffic death toll for the Christmas holiday season mounted to 19 today. Safety officials feared the home-bound traffic of Sunday travelers would increase the toll still further.

Two double fatality traffic accidents Friday helped push the toll higher.

First Saturday victim to be counted in the Associated Press tabulation which began at 6 p. m. Wednesday and continues through midnight Sunday came in the early hours of the day. Dorothy Fetkenko, 31, of Route 2, Elyria, was killed when her auto was struck from behind by another car on Ohio 57 between Elyria and Lorain.

The double fatalities occurred near Dayton and Fremont. Both resulted from two-car collisions.

Through midnight Thursday there were 10 traffic deaths. Two other persons died Friday of injuries received in highway accidents Thursday.

In addition, there have been two miscellaneous accidental deaths. A Fremont youth fell through the ice and drowned after walking across a frozen section of Lake Erie. And a Dayton man was fatally injured in a fall down some stairs at his home.

Friday's fatalities: James House, 18, of Fremont, drowned in Lake Erie off Catawba Point near Port Clinton when he fell through the ice as he walked across it.

Louis Elmore, 64, of Dayton, of injuries received Thursday in a fall down stairs at his home.

Judith Ann Sohn, 17, Rt. 1, Germantown, and Henry C. Smith, 20, Middletown, in a two-car collision on Ohio 4 about 15 miles southwest of Dayton.

Mrs. Helen Frye, 25, of Evans-ton, Ill., and Mrs. Emma Brindley, 70, Port Clinton, in a two-car collision north of Fremont at the intersection of Ohio 19 and U. S. 20.

Christine Gladly, 19, of Alliance, when the car in which she was riding crashed on Ohio 80, two miles south of Edinburg, near Ravenna.

Teddy Williams, 20, of Ravenna, when his car crashed along Ohio 14 just south of Deerfield, near Ravenna.

David Dehn, 3, of Berea, of injuries received Thursday when his sled was hit by an automobile in that Cleveland suburb.

Peter Sallay, 20, of Cleveland, of injuries received Thursday when a car in which he was riding hit a tree in Cleveland.

Cubans Warned To Stay Clear Of Rebel Posts

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Civilians were warned today to keep clear of rebel positions as the government proclaimed an all-out drive to wipe out the insurgents. Army planes are reported to already have bombed the outskirts of Placetas on the main highway east of Santa Clara, where the rebels are tightening a ring around the capital of Las Villas Province.

The two-year rebellion faces its bloodiest turn as government forces struck at heavily populated concentrated districts which until now have been kept out of the range of gunfire.

A shortage of weapons and ammunition was hampering the government of President Fulgencio Batista in countering attacks by the rebel forces of Fidel Castro.

Toll Ahead Of Estimate For Period

376 Already Dead; Hope Held All-Time 706 High Will Miss

Traffic 376
 Fires 78
 Miscellaneous 54
 Total 508

By The Associated Press
 The traffic death toll climbed faster than pre-Christmas holiday estimates Saturday as millions of weekend travelers toured the country's highways.

The National Safety Council said the toll was ahead of a rate which would produce the 620 deaths it predicted for the four-day holiday period.

But it added there was a "glimmer of hope" the rising number of auto fatalities might fall short of the all-time holiday high of 706 set in a similar Christmas period two years ago.

As usual, speed and careless driving were blamed for most of the killer accidents.

Generally fair and warm weather egged on some motorists to push down on the accelerator.

The council said it based its hopes that no new record was in the making on midnight figures which showed this year's toll at 345 deaths. At a comparable period in 1956 the death count was 384.

The NSC said early Saturday morning figures indicated there was a slow-down in the death rate. At the start of the holiday fatalities rose far above a record-breaking pace.

The NSC said Friday night was the first time since The Associated Press count started at 6 p. m. local time Wednesday that the traffic toll had fallen below the heavy fatality pace of two years ago.

"These figures are certainly the first glimmer of hope in an otherwise bleak picture. The council hopes we have stopped this advance of human slaughter on the highways. We hope we now have a chance to avoid hitting the all-time high of 706 dead in 1956," the spokesman said.

An AP survey for a nonholiday period, from 6 p. m. Wednesday, Dec. 10 to midnight, Sunday, Dec. 14, showed 341 persons died in traffic accidents, 106 in fires and 105 in miscellaneous type accidents, a total of 552.

Bail Admitted For Goldfine Pending Plea

BOSTON (AP) — New England industrialist Bernard Goldfine, under a three-month jail sentence for contempt of court, has lost his bid for a new trial.

Goldfine is scheduled to begin serving the sentence Jan. 7, but U.S. District Court Judge Charles E. Wyanski Jr., admitted him to bail Friday pending his appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals.

Being admitted to bail, court attaches said, means Goldfine will be free until the case is heard by the appeals court, probably not until much later than Jan. 7.

Goldfine's secretary, Miss Mildred Paperman, under a 10-day sentence for contempt of court, also was admitted to bail pending action on her appeal.

Both were convicted last Monday of criminal contempt after U.S. internal revenue agents charged the pair failed to turn over records of Goldfine textile mills for study.

Goldfine faces trial in Washington March 16 on a contempt of Congress charge for failure to answer some questions about his financial affairs before a congressional subcommittee last summer.

The Washington hearings brought out testimony that Goldfine and Sherman Adams, former assistant to President Eisenhower, had exchanged gifts.

Trio Indicted In California Nurse Slaying

Didn't Want Another Woman To Have Her Boy, Mother Says

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—"She didn't want another woman to have her boy."

Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson was talking about Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, 54, who was indicted Friday on a charge of murder, along with the two men she is accused of hiring to kill her daughter-in-law.

Talking to reporters following the return of the indictments, Gustafson said it was a dramatic midnight confession by one of the accused hired killers that led to the county grand jury's swift action.

The jurors deliberated only 15 minutes before indicting Mrs. Duncan, Luis Moya, 22, and Augustine Baldonado, 25, for the murder of Olga Duncan, 30, pregnant wife of Mrs. Duncan's son, Frank.

Moya, a drifter with an eight-year record of arrests, had maintained a sullen silence since the body of the Canadian nurse was found in a hastily dug grave near here last Sunday. But as midnight tolled on Christmas night he called in his jailers.

"I have confessed to God and

Holdup Thug Assaults Man In Kidnaping

A North Olmstead music teacher visiting relatives here was admitted to City Hospital early this morning with facial injuries he said were inflicted by a man who forced him at knife-point to drive to Vanport and then beat him unconscious after learning he had no money.

Ronald Davis, 27, is in "fair" condition today, hospital authorities said. He suffered a laceration of the lip and a broken tooth and was admitted for X-rays, police reported.

Davis told Patrolman Charles Winters he stopped for a traffic signal at Pennsylvania Ave. and Mulberry St. about 11:30 p. m. Friday when a masked man opened the car door and got in, threatening with a knife in his hand.

He told officers the man ordered him to drive to Pittsburgh. Davis described his assailant as 6-foot, medium build with black, crew-cut hair. He was in his 20's, was wearing a scarf over his face, and had been drinking, Davis continued.

When they arrived in Vanport, Davis said the man asked him for his money. When he told him he didn't have any, the man started beating him with his fists and took his watch.

Davis said he regained consciousness sometime later and drove back to the home of his mother, Mrs. Leah P. Davis, 164 Fawcett St. and his wife and brother-in-law took him to the hospital.

Davis, a graduate of East Liverpool High School and Baldwin-Wallace College, has been visiting relatives here over the holiday. Police Chief Americo Radeschi pointed out the masked bandit violated the federal Lindbergh law (kidnaping) by forcing his victim to accompany him across a state line.

John Coyle, 73, of 4th Ave., La-Croft, received $5 in a letter Friday from a boyhood friend to whom he loaned $3 and had not seen or heard of since 1902-56 years ago.

The borrower was Bert Beller, 77, now residing in Decatur, Ill. The letter was sent about six weeks ago to Proctorville, in Lawrence County, where both men spent their boyhood. A nephew, Leo Coyle, forwarded the letter from Proctorville.

Beller explained in the letter that he remembered the $3 had not been paid. The $2 apparently was interest.

Coyle came to East Liverpool in 1916.

Another Youth Admits Act

Youth Stabbed In Fight After Teenage Record Hop

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A 20-year-old boy was stabbed Friday night in a fight with another youth as the pair were leaving Dick Clark's Teenage Record Hop at Sunnyside Ballroom.

Township and special police made their way through a milling crowd of some 1,500 teen-agers in the parking lot outside the dance hall to reach the victim, Robert Neiffer.

He was taken to Pottstown Memorial Hospital where surgeons performed a two-hour operation to repair the wound in the left side of his abdomen. A hospital spokesman said the Pottstown youth had lost a great quantity of blood but, barring complications, was expected to live. He also suffered a minor facial cut.

Lower Pottsgrove Township Police Chief Harry Crush said a second youth, Maynard Feno, 20, of Reading, in adjoining Berks County, had signed a statement admitting the stabbing. He was charged with aggravated assault and battery and assault with a deadly weapon, pending further investigation.

Crush said there had been rumors of trouble between a group of boys from Pottstown and others from Reading.

Crush said he understood Clark, a nationally known TV personality, already had left the ballroom when the fight broke out shortly before midnight and likely was not aware it had occurred.

He said that apparently "trouble had been brewing for some time between the two groups" but that since only the two boys had been involved in the fight, he did not yet know if their battle was a coincidence or a part of the "smoldering feud."

He said Feno told him he had stabbed the Pottstown boy with a four inch blade but didn't know what he had done with it. The weapon has not been found. Feno did not say what had started their fight.

Sunnyside has long been a popular ballroom in this area with weekly name bands attracting as many as 7,000 persons to the ballroom. It is located just outside Pottstown some 40 miles northwest of Philadelphia.

Moscow Radio Paints Gloomy Picture Of U.S. Delinquency

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio painted a gloomy picture today of juvenile delinquency in the United States.

A broadcast entitled "The Growth of United States Delinquency" gave this description of young America:

"On leaving the movies, the youngster sets out on a melancholy walk through the streets. Cigar-shaded gleaming Cadillacs and Chrysler's rush past him. In restaurant windows he sees the faces of well-fed and satisfied people.

"He, too, could have such a car and be sitting in such a restaurant if... one word keeps creeping up in his heart and mind - the word money."

Capitalism's "decay is inevitably accompanied by a recession in culture, a fall in morals and so shameful and frightening a phenomenon as children's juvenile delinquency," the broadcast added.

This state of affairs, Moscow radio said, shows how "Bible truths collapse as soon as they come into contact with life."

And how are things in the Soviet Union?

"Time was when our country too - then quite a young Soviet republic - was faced with the pressing problem of unattended children due to poverty, postwar collapse and fatherlessness," the broadcast said.

"The morality of Socialist society could not tolerate such a phenomenon."

That's all, Moscow radio didn't go any deeper into the problem of present Soviet juvenile delinquency. Occasional Russian newspaper articles criticizing the conduct of young people indicate there is a lot of delinquency there.

supreme court judge. He also sought the Democratic nomination for governor last spring, but after he was defeated, campaigned for DiSalle.

DiSalle named two other members of his cabinet Friday.

He named Miss Margaret A. Mahoney, Cleveland attorney and former state senator, to be director of industrial relations. She was the first woman ever to hold that post, from 1953-56 under Gov. Frank J. Lausche, now a U. S. senator.

DiSalle also appointed Richard C. Crouch, 54, as director of liquor control. Crouch resigned last October as president and treasurer of Acma Precision Parts, Inc., Dayton.

Miss Mahoney will succeed Hugh D. Wait of Columbus in her $10,000-a-year post. Crouch will replace Floyd C. Moon, who recently announced he will return in inauguration day, Jan. 12, to his post with the State Highway Patrol.

Since 1956, Miss Mahoney has served on the Cleveland-Cuyahoga County Civil Service Commission and engaged in private law practice.

During her fourth term in the State Senate, from 1949-50, she became the first woman majority leader and the first woman to head the Rules Committee. That was the last time Democrats controlled the General Assembly.

Miss Mahoney also served two terms in the Ohio House, from 1939-42, and for a time headed the State Division of Securities.

There will be four holdovers from Gov. C. William O'Neill's Republican Cabinet.

They are Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, health; Dr. Robert A. Haines, mental hygiene and correction; Col. Herbert B. Eagon, natural resources, and Richard M. Larimer, whom O'Neill next week will reappoint for a year as public works director.

'Privileges' To Life-Termer

Honor Camp Supervisor Of Ohio Penitentiary Fired

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Lt. Thomas Crowe was fired as supervisor of the Hocking Honor Camp of Ohio Penitentiary today. The action came at the close of an investigation into alleged special privileges granted life - termers Thomas (Yonnie) Licavoli.

Warden Ralph W. Alvis and Maury Koblenz, head of the state division of corrections, had demanded Crowe's resignation. He complied at once.

The weeks-long investigation of the alleged privileges to Licavoli, serving a life term for murder, stemmed originally from a story by a Columbus Dispatch reporter who had visited the Hocking Camp. Licavoli then was an inmate of the camp, but since has been returned to the penitentiary.

After the news story, Warden Alvis and Koblenz began an investigation and turned the matter over to the Ohio Highway Patrol for a complete report. That report was made today.

Warden Alvis said Crowe had admitted "laxity in supervision in acknowledging that Licavoli had been granted special privileges."

Nine allegations of special privileges had been investigated. Warden Alvis said only two of these were substantiated—that Licavoli had unauthorized visitors at the camp, and that he made unauthorized use of the telephone.

Charges which were not substantiated, the warden said, were that Licavoli had received and sent uncensored mail and packages, had a special table for guests, had access to a private room without supervision, unauthorized use of the prison station wagon, unauthorized use of civilian clothes, unauthorized possession of a pet (dog) and unauthorized use of special foods and refrigerator privileges.

Licavoli, a former Toledo gang leader, had been transferred to the honor camp about three years ago.

Township Tax Estimate Set

Liverpool Trustees Anticipate $32,774

A tax program for the coming year, estimated to return a total of $32,774 from both inside and outside the 10 - mill limitation, was adopted by Liverpool Township trustees Friday night at City Hall.

An estimated $16,774 is expected to be returned on a total of $4,659,716 within the limitation while an additional $6,000 is expected from the 1.3-mill levy for fire protection, which is outside the limitation.

Estimated valuations are $3,475,190, real estate; $919,230, public utilities, and $265,296, personal property.

A state examiner's report was read, showing the records are in order.

A total of $240 was transferred from the general fund to the garage fund to pay for a new roof that was installed.

The trustees discussed obtaining liability insurance to cover social events at the two fire halls.

Lewis Barron of Stop 9, Midland, was fined $10 and costs for failing to stop within the assured clear distance. He was cited on a charge filed by Neil P. Shope of Blazer Ln.

A charge against Willis Plum, 320 Main St., Wellsville, accusing him of leaving the scene of an accident, was dismissed. The charge was filed by Constable Clifford H. Owens. Judge Brokaw said no offense was committed. Plum's car ran into a stone wall and the motorist left to obtain a wrecker, the judge said.

County Allots $2,750 Fund For Herd Test

City Dealer Awarded Contract For Road Department Truck

LISBON - Columbiana County commissioners appropriated $2,750 from the general fund Friday to pay for tuberculin testing of county dairy herds, scheduled to begin Jan. 2.

The co - operative TB eradication program is sponsored by the Ohio and United States Departments of Agriculture.

In other business, commissioners purchased a new car for the county engineer and a new truck for the County Highway Department; signed a four - year lease for the Eastern District court room at East Palestine and paid $125 to a St. Clair Township couple for a highway easement over their land.

Funds appropriated for the TB testing will finance the so - called 20-per cent test. According to Dr. Robert J. Kilgore of North Canton, area veterinarian, veterinarians will be blood testing 20 per cent of the cattle not brucellosis milk - ring tested to recertify the county for brucellosis.

"It is our desire to have these cattle (the 20 per cent) TB tested 20 per cent test. According to gore said. The 20 per cent of those cattle that are milk - ring tested will be TB tested next fall, which will complete the 20 per cent test of all the cattle, he said.

Columbiana County's last 20-per cent TB testing program was conducted 3 years ago. The rate of infection ran over the 0.5 per cent figure and all cattle had to be TB tested. The overall test showed a 0.2 per cent infection and the 925.

county was accredited for 3 years.

If in testing 20 per cent of the county in 1959, an infection rate of less than 0.5 per cent is found, the county may be accredited for another three years, Dr. Kilgore said. However, if the infection rate is over 0.5 per cent, the rest of the cattle will have to be tested in 1960.

Commissioners took no action on a request for $450 to support the brucellosis control program. Dr. Kilgore made the request for Emerson Snapp, who is in charge of the mobile laboratory serving this section of the state. According to Dr. Kilgore, Snapp said the $300 furnished this year by Columbiana County was "not enough."

Brittain Motors of East Palestine was low bidder on a 6-cylinder, 2-door Chevrolet sedan with its figure of $1,820, counting a $522.60 trade-in allowance on a 1952 model. The car is for Charles O. Snyder, county engineer. Other bids received were for $2,000 and $2,200.

Turk Motor Sales of East Liverpool won over five other bidders on a Chevrolet dump truck for the County Highway Department. Turk's price was $5,020.51, counting a $300 allowance on a 1949 GMC dump truck. Other bids ranged from $5,493 to $5,900.

A new lease was signed with J. E. Bauknecht, East Palestine attorney, who owns the building in which Eastern District Court is located. The lease runs for four years, beginning Jan. 1, and is for $75 per month. Commissioners are to pay all gas, electric, phone and other utility charges and janitor services.

Maurice H. Chamberlin and Ora Chamberlin received $125 for a perpetual easement and right - of - way for public highway and bridge purposes on Township Rd. 925 and county bridge 1123. The easement contains 0.55 acre of land of which 0.42 acre is within the original right - of - way of Township Rd. 925.

The Wisdom To Know The Difference

Before 1959 has shed its calendar leaves, the political campaign of 1960 will be in lively motion.

Members of the 86th Congress, when they convene next month, will have their eye on coming events in everything they say and do.

More than ever before, voters whose principles and prejudices are being conditioned from day to day for the next election will need to know what is going on in Washington.

They will need to know, particularly, how the people who will be making the political news of the next 12 to 18 months should be classified in the "splinter-party" system that lies beneath the bland exterior of the two-party system; how each of the two major parties is divided and subdivided into its component parts.

For example, they must know the difference between a labor-leader politician who calls himself a Democrat and a bona fide old-line Democrat who tells his constituents he is friendly to unionism.

They must know the difference between a Republican like Gov.-elect Rockefeller in New York and a Republican like Sen. Goldwater of Arizona. Both are Republicans, but there is a world of difference between them.

THERE IS ANOTHER world of difference between human-rights liberals, who try to carry out the principles of the Constitution's Bill of Rights, and money liberals, who frequently ride roughshod over human rights in their haste to make the American people increasingly dependent on various forms of state capitalism.

There are stand-patters, who see no reason to change for the sake of change, and backward-lookers who try to turn things around and make progress in reverse. It is necessary to know the difference between them, too.

Equally important is the difference between progressives who believe in progress and reject everything that does not lend itself to progress and another kind of self-styled progressive who thinks motion, itself, is progress, regardless of the direction it takes.

There is one breed of politician that thrives on overthrowing by brute force, another breed that specializes in undermining by slow degrees.

There are hair-splitters and Constitution-challengers. There are states-righters and individual-wrongers.

There are the planned economists, now being heard from, who would like to run all enterprise by politically rigged decrees issued in Washington. Then there are the planned economists who live in dread of the day when federal spenders may have led the nation into such deep water it will have to sink or swim with them.

THERE ARE realists and romanticists — and there are victims of obsessions who say they are realists and chowder-headed dreamers who think of themselves as romanticists.

There are treasury watchdogs, and their mission in government is to be on the lookout for treasury raiders. There are money-taxers whose pat answer to every problem is to sweat* more blood out of taxpayers and patience-taxers whose standard reaction in every dilemma is to try to blow it to pieces with oratory.

And mixed in with all the others is the hard-to-classify politician who does the best he can without regard to what he is supposed to be—the one who knows when to spend, when to save, when to stand pat and when to move. It takes all kinds to make a representative democracy and millions of informed citizens to know the difference.

Water, Fire And The Automobile

The seasonal hazard of water that causes a disturbingly high death rate from drowning during the summer holidays — Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day—has its wintertime duplicate in fire.

Though the statistics are not complete and cannot be thought of as completely reliable even when a total has been agreed on, upward of 50 persons were killed by fire over the Christmas weekend.

This hazard has been more conspicuous this winter than usual, because of unusually low temperatures. Fire prevention experts know that risks which might claim no lives under ordinary heating conditions always are multiplied in extremely cold weather, when furnaces and heaters are used to the limit. Yet, safety from fire is not beyond attainment, even when it must be attained under less than ideal conditions, as is true of many dwelling places that are heated with inferior equipment. Like safety from highway hazards, the answer is in vigilance. Most fires are caused by human carelessness, much of it in the form of failure to learn what possibilities of danger exist.

There is evidence, too, that in residential fires many fatalities are caused by failure to have a predetermined plan for getting out of the building if a fire starts. Victims are claimed for lack of the simple precaution of having been told in advance what to do if an emergency arises.

Fire is by no means as dangerous as water, which claimed 27 per cent as many victims last Labor Day as lost their lives on the highway. But at a rate that is running a strong 17 per cent, heating is the third most fearful hazard, exceeded by highway travel by auto and the water sports of swimming and boating.

Still The Season

That warm glow of good feeling that made everybody feel better about everything while all of us were saying, "Merry Christmas!"—do you still have it?

Do you still wish Christmas could be every day of the year? Do you still think it could be done if people worked at it as hard every day of the year as they work before and during Christmas?

You were right the first time. The trouble is, the effort isn't made often enough.

Merry Today! Peace on earth! Good will toward men!

Merry Tomorrow, too! It's still the season to be jolly.

The Power Of Faith

By Howard Brodie

"Ring out the old
Ring in the new Ring in the true."
—Tennyson

New Year's is a time for taking spiritual inventory, for looking back over the old year and assessing the good and the bad, for looking forward into the future with hope and faith and courage.

The Romans had something like this in mind in their ancient god Janus, who represented the first hour of the day, the first day of the month and the first month of the year, and who was always first in prayer. Janus, from which we derive our word January, was always portrayed looking backward and forward.

New Year's gives us a chance to profit by the past and rekindle our faith in the future.

"So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom."

—Psalms 90:12

Nixon Meets With Two Of Labor Leaders

By Victor Riesel

Quietly, with no publicity bugles blowing, Richard Nixon has been attempting to end the civil war between the Republican administration and the nation's labor leaders.

At high noon on Thursday, Nov. 20, had you been stalking the Capitol's corridors, you would have noted two men from labor's national headquarters checking their propaganda guns outside the vice president's office. Seconds later they were deep in conversation so characteristic of President Eisenhower's second-in-command.

Mr. Nixon spent most of his time asking, probing for advice — and listening carefully. This time he listened to William Schnitzler, second-in-command of the AFL-CIO and to lean, dry-humored Mike Ross, the AFL-CIO's foreign affairs expert.

Later, Dick Nixon told friends that he believed their advice had helped make his trip to Britain the impeccable success it was.

THE LABOR MEN had come at Nixon's invitation. He asked for a briefing on what to expect from British political leaders — especially the Socialist Labor party officialdom in London.

What really were their interests? What policies were they really pushing? What did they really think of the Soviets?

Nixon got a thorough run-down in this secret talk. In the final few minutes, he told Schnitzler that labor's international — fighting against the Communists was of great help to the U.S. Husky Bill Schnitzler batted this one right back.

"We'd do better if we had more money to spend on this battle and we'd have more money if we didn't have to spend so much of it fighting the 'right-to-work' proposals," the AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer said.

Then Dick Nixon, knowing full well that this off-the-record talk was not intended to be off-the-record from Schnitzler's colleagues, said quietly:

"Forget about the 'right-to-work' laws. I doubt they will be pushed again."

It was apparent to the two labor officials that Dick Nixon was previewing his 1960 self — though that is not why he had asked them to drop in.

They left, confident they had the vice president's word on "right-to-work." They left feeling that Nixon had, in effect, said he wanted no war with them; that they could differ but where the labor leaders could help the government, he wanted to work with them quietly and, when necessary, without fanfare as in this unreported session.

THE MEETING would have stayed off-the-record if a couple of insiders hadn't discussed the Nov. 20 get-together while they were at another, larger private gathering on another Thursday, exactly a month later. That was on Dec. 18, in New York City.

They were in a group of 53 New York labor chiefs. This was a selected list drawn up for the host, Gov.-elect Nelson A. Rockefeller, by his labor adviser, Victor Borella. The latter is executive vice-president of Rockefeller Center. Among other Borella duties are the center's labor relations.

The 53 union chiefs, including such ardent New Deal nostalgists as David Dubinsky and Alex Rose, found themselves mixing genially with Mr. Rockefeller in the executive offices of Radio City Music Hall. Most of the unionists were but names to the new governor. He grinned when he made them welcome with a short speech. This began with "Little did I realize that I would be in this position..."

DUBINSKY, the irrepressible, heckled laughingly, "You can't blame us for that..." The crowd roared. There was not one of them who had supported Rockefeller for election.

Rockefeller chuckled. Then he went on to say that he believed in a two-party system. Turning to Liberal party leader Alex Rose, the governor-elect said, "Even in a two-and-a-half party system." Becoming serious, the Republican leader stated he would not permit himself to be moved by one pressure group against any other. It was obvious he meant he would forget they had been on the other side. There was talk of his startling new pro-labor program soon to be unveiled.

It was obvious, too, that another Republican chief of national stature was saying that he wanted no civil war with the labor men.

Test For Democrats

By David Lawrence

What Will They Do With The Budget?

Naturally the "radical" Democrats are disturbed at the administration's drive to cut expenses and are pooh-poohing the idea of a balanced budget. So they call President Eisenhower's proposal "dishonest" and "political."

Statesmen would comment differently — praising the objective and pledging themselves to carry it out. But the political game is one of taking opposite positions — for opposition's sake — no matter how worthy the objective.

Sen. Byrd of Virginia, conservative Democrat, reacted as a statesman. He is all in favor of the idea of a balanced budget and will do his utmost to keep expenditures down.

The big question today is whether the administration has overestimated the amount of money that will be taken in during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1959.

The government must overcome the deficit of 12 billion dollars in receipts which it has been running during the present fiscal year.

First of all the expenses have been cut by $2,200,000,000. This means that somewhere between 9 and 10 billions has to be collected in taxes which isn't being collected now.

From authoritative sources this correspondent has obtained information on how the receipts were estimated and there is every indication that the Treasury has been conservative in its figures.

In fact, it looks like a possible cash surplus, provided Congress cooperates in holding expenses down and in voting the postal rate increases and gasoline taxes requested by the President.

THE BASIS for estimating the future receipts is a realistic one. It takes into account that in 1954, when there was a dip in the economy, the recovery movement in the nation brought in far more revenues than is sought now. It is necessary to collect about 10 billions above the 67 billions being collected at present to reach the 77 billions needed for the balanced budget.

The gross national output has gone up 27 billions in the last 12 months. This indicates that the recovery movement is comparable to what it was in 1954 and 1955.

Already Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee that handles taxes is predicting receipts of between 75 and 78 billions from existing tax rates.

The administration is counting, however, on only 76½ billions from previous tax rates and also is expecting about 400 million dollars from the new taxes on special kinds of income such as insurance companies and cooperatives, as well as about 100 million dollars from the so-called user's tax on government services.

Thus, the goal of 77 billions seems to be in reach.

All this estimating is predicated on a continuance of the mood of business that has prevailed in the last three months but there is a psychological stimulus likely in the next few months which can give business an even bigger lift.

This is related primarily to the stabilization of prices. Many plans for capital goods expenditures by private business have been shelved heretofore because of the fear of a higher price level.

If, however, the budget is to be balanced, money will be more plentiful for borrowers. Likewise, if the administration can make some move to check the irresponsible strikes and exorbitant demands for higher wages, it would hearten businessmen on every side.

IT IS TO BE NOTED that the government's Bureau of Labor Statistics has just announced another increase in the cost of living — a peak for all time.

The head of the steel workers union says wages have been chasing prices. But the government's index shows that it is in the auto field that prices have been forced upward. This, in turn, is due to wage demands by Auto Workers.

Also, as the cost of living index goes up, the wage level goes up automatically in many industries, now to weaken the purchasing power of the dollar.

The consumer index is 23.9 per cent above the average of prices 10 years ago and more than double what prices were in 1939.

High administration officials feel that a balanced budget is a compass by which to steer in the uncharted seas of inflation and rising prices. Many things the government buys are rising in price and it is hard to keep expenses down when the price level itself is soaring.

"Any time a nation lets its people believe," said a high official of the government, "that the way to make money is to spend more and that to speculate is to save, there can only be trouble ahead."

Advisers of the administration today are conservative in their estimates. They have cut needless expenditures and are proposing a balanced budget at 77 billions but they are providing, nevertheless, the highest amounts ever spent in peacetime for national defense.

Will the "radical" Democrats tear it all down next January and reduce further the purchasing power of the dollar?

The responsibility now is on the Democratic majority in the Senate and House which takes over the legislative power next month.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: As we drove home Christmas night, suffused in the warm glow of your hospitality and overpowered by all the good things we had eaten, we were grateful for another of the completely happy occasions that have graced our lives.

We have talked many times, your aunt and I, about complete happiness. At our age, we are able to understand that happiness is an instant in retrospect, not an instant in immediate experience. To be judged as complete happiness, it must be evaluated by hindsight.

We never have had anything less than complete happiness in your house over the many years you have been kind enough to include us in your celebration of Christmas. We have always remembered that you told us many years ago when you started your family that you hoped to duplicate the happiness you experienced when you lived with us. That makes us even. I have no idea how many houses we passed on the way home, but in most of them the lights were on, the Christmas trees were visible through the windows and family groups could be seen moving about inside. We talked about the millions of houses all over this big country where the same thing was happening... the thousands of streets and highways where people like us were seeing the same things and having the same thoughts.

This must be what we mean when we talk about the American way of life — this Christmas pattern of behavior that gives almost every child as he grows up a set of memories that tie him pleasantly to the place he calls home.

Could it be that we tend to forget this because we pay too much attention to the seamy side of the American way of life? I do not mean that we have a monopoly on something especially good. But the way we celebrate Christmas is typical of the ways of doing things in family groups that give us our strongest claim to special goodness. Take away the good companionship and love in families, the religious devotion that in itself originates in the family circle and the compassion that family living helps to develop, and there wouldn't be much left.

Fortunately, there is no evidence that these things are going to be taken away; they are here to stay. Your aunt and I talked about that, too. In our span of years we have seen great progress in the right direction. We waste no time reminiscing about the good old days. They were not half so good as they are now.

Forgive me for bringing up the subject in this way, but it was on our minds all the way home Christmas night. We were still thinking about it when we got up. We are grateful for having a family we can be with on the happiest day of the year. Otherwise, it would come perilously close to being just the day between Dec. 24 and Dec. 26.

We are glad you enjoyed our baubles. We like your baubles, too.

They will gladden the new year for us, and we will think of you often, as we always have. Thank you for a Merry Christmas. And the usual regards to all the rest of the family who helped to make it that way.

Cotton Corners UNCLE GEORGE

It is generally conceded that about half of the American population fail to eat what is considered a good breakfast. The importance of breakfast in producing efficiency and a feeling of well-being later in the day is hard to overestimate. Those persons who rely just on coffee and toast or rolls usually experience later a condition known as hypoglycemia, characterized by nervousness, inefficiency, irritableness, carelessness, and loss of interest.

The Once Over

Dear Mom: Well, I was nervous about Khrushchev's threat to declare war on the United States if we did not get out of West Berlin but I just got news that makes me feel better. It says Pfc. Elvis Presley now has a German $7.50 sports car trimmed with black and white leather.

In addition, he has his Cadillacs, a palace, his own guards and personal staff and I don't think the Russians would attack against this sort of opposition. I understand this puts us ahead of the Soviet Union in white and black leather upholstery.

THE GERMANS CALL the car a "Presley-Wagen," which should be warning enough to Khrushchev. Elvis got the sports car at his woodland palace while a great crowd of fans looked on, cheering in support of the free world, high horsepower, guided autographs, guitar players and muscular twitches.

I guess it made Moscow stop and think before making any more threats.

The scuttlebutt is that in case of a war over West Berlin, Presley and his sports car would go in first, with his several Cadillacs in reserve. Me and the other G.I.'s who have no musical reputations would have to fight with regulation Army weapons, with no black and white leather trimmings.

But I guess we should be glad to know Elvis is clearing the way ahead of us with his auto fleet, personal entourage and some new songs which Russia has not yet been able to develop. It is five years behind us in auto upholstery, for one thing.

I GOT YOUR LETTER asking why I did not have no Cadillacs, palaces and secretarial staff and asking if I wanted you should take it up with the Army back home. I think you had better lay off, as the Army knows what it is doing and may think we would of won the last war quicker if our boys had Hollywood experience, better housing, less KP duty, etc.

Do not worry. Elvis may be the Army's secret weapon. Anyhow, a word of sarcasm about him will get you a flood of abusive letters.

It is okay to criticize the President, Gen. Norstadt, the secretary of defense, De Gaulle, Dulles, Churchill and NATO but to put the knock on Elvis Presley in a cold or hot war is sacrilegious, libelous, unconstitutional and dirty pool.

So just relax. There is no truth in the story

TIP TO NEW YORK visitors: Watch out for the increasing number of midtown restaurants which offer no printed menu, list no prices in any way whatever and merely name the dishes, carefully refraining from mentioning the cost unless you make a firm request.

The result can be a check that will make you think you have bought a del luxe auto instead of a dinner.

Until the past few years there were only two or three places which followed this routine. They were very high class and trustworthy that high-wheeling customers didn't always mind. And the waiters graciously made with the prices.

Numerous restaurants have followed the trend but with the waiters making it embarrassing for a customer to ask prices, especially if with his gal or other guests. Shrimp cocktails at $1.50, soup at 75 cents a plate, steak at $7.50 and cocktails at a dollar each will startle you when you get the check.

Timidity of customers to inquire about prices once they find themselves in such places is hard to explain. They are the same folks who always ask the price of gas before filling the tank, drive miles to save a few cents on groceries and would never think of buying a suit of clothes from a tailor who wouldn't tell them the cost.

How To Have A Happy New Year

A while back I happened to be waiting for a train in the South Station at Boston. Strolling around the station during the few minutes I had to wait, I passed the restaurant. Memory carried me back to an old friend — now gone to heaven — by the name of William L. Stidger, preacher and professor, affectionately known to his friends and students as "Bill" Stidger. I recalled one winter evening when I had an oyster stew with Bill Stidger in that South Station restaurant. Bill was one of the most eager, enthusiastic men I ever knew. He effervesced, he bubbled over. Life always seemed wonderful to him. And, as we ate our stew that night, I said, "Bill, I've always wondered about you. You seem so completely and thoroughly happy. You are a happy man, aren't you?"

"Sure thing," he boomed. "My life is full of happiness. The world is wonderful and exciting."

THEN I BEGAN to probe for his secret, for I knew he had one, and finally he said something most significant. I have often used what he said in speeches and books. Bill Stidger told me that the secret of his life full of happiness was simply that he had learned to practice the attitude of gratitude.

Isn't that a felicitous phrase? And isn't that a felicitous idea? Bill Stidger went on to tell how to practice the attitude of gratitude. When he woke up in the morning the first thing he did was to give thanks to the Lord that he could wake up . . . that he was alive! "The more you remind yourself that you are alive the more alive you'll be," he said.

Next, he would tell the Lord that he was grateful for a "delicious night's sleep." What a description! . . . "delicious night's sleep." He would give thanks to the Lord for his wife and children.

"And," he added, "I give thanks for the work I have to do, for my friends and for my opportunities. I just run over my world in my mind, thinking of everyone and everything . . . practicing the attitude of gratitude." I never forgot that phrase and I hope you won't either. It is an important factor in the secret of a life full of happiness.

HOW CAN YOU fill this new year and, indeed, all the rest of your life, with happiness? The Psalmist tells us how: "O give thanks unto the Lord: for He is good: for His mercy endureth forever." Of course, this doesn't mean that we can rise above life's troubles by the power of God within us. In that rising above difficulty you'll find the attitude of gratitude a big help.

So try being grateful for people and things and life and God. If you get up every morning and go to bed every night thanking God for every wonderful blessing He has given you, you can't help being more healthy - minded, stronger spiritually and physically, more positive in your thinking.

And, when you develop these attributes within yourself, you are acquiring the qualities you need to make this new year and your whole life overflow with happiness.

They say that happiness is a habit. That's right, it is. But it results from another habit, and that habit is one I suggest we all begin to cultivate now. It's one that will help you start the New Year off right.

Cultivate the habit of gratitude, the attitude of thankfulness. Think gratitude, speak gratitude and you will help other people to be grateful. As you spread gratitude you will have a New Year full of happiness.

Cuban Pilot, 24, Flies Bomber To Miami And Exile

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A young Cuban air force pilot flew a B26 bomber to Miami and exile Friday night "because I don't like to bomb cities and kill innocent women and children."

Lt. Jose A. Crespo, 24, said he forced his mechanic to accompany him.

"I put a gun to his head when we took off," Crespo told the Miami Herald, "and then made him sit in front of me on the flight to Miami. I know that if I return to Cuba I would be killed."

Crespo refused to reveal the name of his sergeant-mechanic who was scheduled to return to Havana by commercial airliner.

The plane carried no bombs but it mounted eight .50-caliber machine guns.

Crespo's lawyer in Miami, Jack King, said a hearing will determine whether his client will be admitted to the United States.

The pilot said he had been ordered to bomb Cuban cities in the government's fight against rebel forces and decided to get out. His parents live in Havana, he said.

Cuban sources in Miami said they never had heard of such an order.

The plane was left parked at the airport, presumably awaiting action by immigration or the border patrol.

Planes used in previous such defections were impounded and returned to Cuba.

Pope's Death, Election Of New One Top Stories In Religion

NEW YORK (AP)—If you look back over 1958, you will discover that religion made an unusual amount of news.

The top story was the death of Pope Pius XII and the election and coronation of Pope John XXIII, son of an Italian peasant.

Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston and Archbishop Francis O'Hara of Philadelphia were among the new cardinals appointed by Pope John.

Other significant events, in random order, included:

1. The ouster of 13 theologians from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky. — about a third of the entire faculty — who objected to the policies of the seminary administration. The firing occurred in June.

A few weeks ago the central accrediting organization for Protestant schools in the United States strongly criticized the administration and gave the seminary a year to correct what were called intolerable conditions, or face loss of accredited standing. Details of the controversy have not been made public.

2. Merger on May 28 of the United Presbyterian Church of North America and the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. into a unified denomination, the United Presbyterian Church in America. The total membership is 3¼ million, fourth largest among United States Protestant denominations.

3. The increasing tendency of Southern clergymen to join in working for a moderate approach to racial problems in the South, including combined moves by pastors in Atlanta and Little Rock. The nondenominational monthly Pulpit Digest said a poll showed four out of five Protestant ministers in 17 Southern states are in favor of complying with the Supreme Court school integration order.

4. Mounting discussion of religious affiliations of political candidates, sparked by the possibility of Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.), a Roman Catholic, becoming a presidential nominee.

5. Conviction and subsequent acquittal of the Most Rev. Pietro Fiondelli, Roman Catholic bishop of Prato, Italy, of slander charges. The case, which shook church-state relations in Italy, grew out of the bishop's calling an atheist and his wife "public sinners" for refusing to be married in a religious ceremony after their civil marriage.

6. Growing discussion over the status of Protestants in the South American republic of Colombia.

7. Battle over the New York City policy of prohibiting dissemination of birth control information to patients in city hospitals, resulting in a modification of the policy. Now birth control therapy will be permitted in city hospitals where medical needs dictate. Protestant and Jewish groups opposed the ban; Roman Catholics defended it.

Neither will ever have a worry as to where their next meal comes from.

Their late master, Thomas F. Shewbridge, directed in his will that the profits from his $100,000 estate go to providing for his two pals.

"I wish the dogs to have the best of care," he wrote in a will dated Feb. 26, 1958. The 50-year-old childless widower died Dec. 11.

His will, filed for probate Friday, ordered all his assets, including a 17-acre valuable prime ranch in nearby Campbell, turned into cash.

He then said common shares of water works stock should be bought with all dividends going for the care of the dogs.

The stock closed Friday at $53. It pays an annual dividend of $2.40.

The American Trust Co., administrators of the estate, figure it will come to $80,000 after taxes—or 1,500 shares.

That'll mean better than $3,000 a year for Mac and George.

Shewbridge put a 20-year maximum on providing for the dogs. After that period, the entire estate is to go to any surviving legal heirs.

Two Men Who Had Everything

Finally Christmas arrived, and two men, unknown to each other but alike in one respect, awakened to the coming of the day.

One man opened his eyes to see three expectant boyish faces huddled over his bed.

"Wake up, Daddy, it's 7 o'clock!" the oldest boy said. "We can't wait forever!"

The man bolted from his bed and closed the frost-encrusted window.

"Hey, Mom," he called, "Santa Claus has been here! I'll get the boys dressed and you fix breakfast. Come on, gang!"

Minutes later, he was sitting at the dinette table with his family. Breakfast didn't take long; there was too much excitement in the air.

"You guys finish your milk," the man said, "then we'll go!"

THE TREE stood in a corner of the living room. It glistened with tinsel, ornaments and lights. And stretched out before it was the electric train the whole family wanted.

The man and his wife stood by and listened to shouts of joy as the two older boys ran the train and the youngest tried to knife his way between them and become a part of the fun.

There were packages under the tree from grandparents, uncles, aunts and cousins. There was a package from the man to his wife. And there was an extra special package for the man; it had been a secret between the mother and the boys.

"I didn't know what to get you," his wife said. "I couldn't think of anything you'd really want. I hope you'll like these!"

They waited, crowded around his chair, while he opened the package.

"Gosh!" he exclaimed. "What a swell present! House shoes with a warm, wooly lining!"

ACROSS the country, many hundreds of miles away, the other man slowly opened his eyes and looked out into a warm mid-morning sunshine.

He sat up on the edge of his bed and looked at his watch. Ten o'clock!

His wife stirred in the next bed and looked up at him. "Good morning, Dear," he said. "Shall I order breakfast?"

"Orange juice and coffee for me, that's all," she replied.

The man reached for the phone, called room service and placed the order.

He pulled on his dressing gown and went into the adjoining living room.

OUTSIDE the hotel window, centered in the huge patio, was a tall, stately fir tree decorated with brilliant colored fruits, pink flowers and pale blue lights. The fir was a striking contrast to the silent stillness of the surrounding palms.

Presently there was a knock at the door; the waiter had come with their breakfast.

The man's wife joined him. She brought a beautifully wrapped package to the table.

"I didn't know what to get you," she said. "I couldn't think of anything you'd really want. I hope you'll like these!"

She waited, an uncertain smile on her lips, while he opened the package.

"Well—most unusual," he said. "House shoes with platinum buckles!"

BOTH MEN had everything.

A New Year... A New Way

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Chester Handed Season's First Defeat By Killbuck, 61-53

Midland Jars Beaver Falls, 61-48, For Seventh Victory

Allison's Five Has Slim Lead All The Way

By ROB NIBLOCK
A sharp-shooting Killbuck cage team duffed the holiday luster for Coach Max Tuttle and his Chester Panthers Friday night by handing them a 61-53 setback — their first in five games this season.

bled the Panthers from the unbeaten ranks at the Chester High gymnasium.

Allison, a 1941 graduate of Chester High, who played both football and basketball at the school, has compiled an impressive record in his four years at the Bucks' helm. Last night's victory was their fifth in six starts this season and their 49th under Allison.

THEY HAVE lost only 25 — Never having had a losing season — and topped their district's Class A crown in Allison's first year at the school.

Allison also coached the first team the Ohio school ever fielded during the 1958 grid season and it finished unbeaten.

The Bucks, who play two games during their holiday visit to the valley, will meet winless Newell tonight.

The Panthers, who captured a thriller Tuesday night for their fourth victory, trailed all the way Friday, but were never out of contention.

Trailing by five points with four minutes remaining, Chester was unable to crack a freeze which the Bucks then employed and committed several personals in attempts to get the ball.

Capitalizing on these opportunities at the charity stripe, the visitors cashed in on eight in the final period and 17 of 28 to post a 61 per cent average.

It was on these foul conversions that Killbuck tumbled the Panthers. Field goals were even at 22, but Chester made but 9 of 19 fouls — a 47 per cent average.

FROM the field, Chester attempted 59 shots for a 36 per cent average, while Killbuck, which had been hitting around 45 per cent in each of its first five games, had a 39 per cent average, shooting 56 times.

Chester's high-scoring guard, Dave Brooks, again paced the Panther attack, dropping in 8 field goals and 3 foul shots for 19 points.

He shared scoring honors for the evening with the visitor's six-foot center, Tom Taylor, who also pumped in 19.

Three players from each squad hit for double figures. Frank Kennedy collected 16, while Bob McMahon, a 5-9 senior guard, contributed 10. Chester's only other scorer was center Bill Myers, who got 8.

For the visitors, Jerry Allison dumped five goals and a like number of fouls to finish with 15. Gary Crosby had 12, Phil Turk 9 and Bill Norris 6.

The winners, who jumped to an early 4-0 lead, had an 18-14 advantage at the end of the first quarter, led only 31-30 at intermission and then increased the margin to 47-41 by the close of the third period.

BOTH TEAMS had impressive first half shooting marks. Chester dropped 13 of 22 for 44 per cent, while the visitors were getting 12 buckets on 29 tries for 41 per cent.

A small team both in manpower and size — only six players saw action and none exceeded six feet — Killbuck relied on a pressing defense and good shooting from all angles of the court.

Had the Bucks' Norris not fouled out at 2:58 of the final period, the starting five probably would have remained intact for the full 32 minutes.

Chester also lost a starter on personal fouls. Kenny left with 1:56 remaining.

The winners, who slowed the Panther offense with the press, probably picked up five or six buckets on steals when Chester was bringing the ball upcourt. And when the Panthers would get the ball past the 10-second line, Killbuck would drop back into a zone which gave Chester trouble.

After whittling the Killbuck lead to one point by the half on eight second-quarter buckets, Chester was beaten to the punch in the third quarter when the Bucks picked up three successive goals to lead 37-30.

THEY BATTLED back, however, with Kenny and Brooks, who got all 11 points for Chester in the period, cutting the margin to

FORMIDABLE EAST ENDS. Kneeling or jumping, the East Shrine team ends looks formidable. Gator Bowl Heads Lineup Of Today's Grid Contests

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Gator Bowl, first of the five major post season football bowl games, topped the first big college offering of holiday gridiron cheer today.

The Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., was the only other bowl game pitting two college teams. For those who like variety, the North-South game at Miami tonight rounded out Florida's contribution, while the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., and the East-West Shrine game at San Francisco brought together more of 1958's top talent.

A national television (CBS) audience watched twice-beaten Mississippi put its one touchdown favorite role against thrice beaten Florida in the Gator classic at Jacksonville before 42,000.

Ole Miss, with quarterback Bobby Franklin and halfbacks Kent Lovelace and Cowboy Woodruff leading the way, pitted themselves against a Florida ground defense that was seventh in the nation. Franklin and Gator quarterback Jimmy Dunn, a 142-pound mite that can throw a football with deadly accuracy, were expected to exploit each team's big weakness—pass defense. Ole Miss was 11th in the Southeastern Conference, Florida 12th.

East Texas State went out to keep the Tangerine Bowl title it won 10-9 against Mississippi Southern last Jan. 1, against a potent single wing outfit from Missouri Valley College.

Missouri Valley, in its ninth bowl in 11 years, was minus halfback Ken Asbury, out with a neck injury, while the Texans counted on quarterback Sam McCord to run their straight T formation offense.

The biggest of the all star games, the East-West classic at San Francisco's Kezar Stadium, pitted the vaunted running and defensive abilities of a massive East team against the passing of West quarterback Lee Grosscup from Utah.

West Coach Jack Curtice, of Stanford, did not expect a break from the weatherman, who predicted rain for the nationally televised (NBC) game beginning 5 p.m. EST. The wet weather would interfere with his plans of trying to go around the big East defensive line, averaging 218 pounds, 20 more than the west defense.

Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty, the East coach, banked on the running of Ohio State's Don Clark and Notre Dame's Nick Pietrosante, to give the East its 14th victory before 60,000.

Curtice lost a key cog in his aerial game when Rice's All America end Buddy Dial sprained an ankle during a workout this week and will not play. In contrast, Daugherty did not have any contact work for the game to be played under college rules, with unlimited substitution permitted.

Another televised all star affair is the Blue-Gray classic, with 21,000 on hand under a drizzly sky. The game was televised by NBC beginning at 2 p.m. EST.

Gray Coach Blanton Collier of Kentucky banked on quarterback Bill Holsclaw of Virginia Tech to lead his attack. Coach Jack Moltenkopf of Purdue had quarterback Dick Longfellow, of West Virginia, and Bob Spoo of Purdue ready to team with All America Bill Austin, hampered a bit with a bum ankle.

Tonight, the North and South go at it in Miami's Orange Bowl before 35,000, with Army Pete Dawkins, the Heisman and Maxwell trophy winner leading the North against quarterback Buddy Humphrey's deadly passing.

South Coach Darrell Royal of Texas has made no bones of going to the air to match North Coach Ara Parseghian's running game.

California Coach Not Perturbed At Odds For Iowa

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Coach Pete Elliott of the California Golden Bears agrees that Iowa should be favored to win the Rose Bowl game, but he's not about to admit they'll do it.

As for the 18 or 19 points quoted on the champion Hawkeyes of the Big Ten, Elliott said he is neither concerned nor perturbed at such odds.

Iowa's record of one loss and one tie during the regular season gives them an edge over the Bears' 7-3 record, in the eyes of the experts.

Elliott, who set up training shop in the Rose Bowl area Friday, said he is not one to make predictions about the outcome of a game.

Forest Evashevski, Iowa's coach, from the outset branded the big point margin ridiculous, and hasn't changed his mind about California, which he calls "a good football team."

Both squads hold single workouts today, each emphasizing defense and perfecting timing on offense.

Salem Bows To East Tech Five, 68-59

Salem High's Quakers, out to pull the upset of the year, threw a bad scare into mighty Cleveland East Tech for three quarters Friday night before Ohio's 1958 cage champions recovered with a rousing fourth period and gained a 68-59 triumph.

A sellout crowd of nearly 2,500 fans jammed into Salem High's new gymnasium saw the losers own as much as a 12 point lead over East Tech midway through the third quarter before superior height and class took its toll.

The tall and talented Scarabs came through like true champions after trailing Salem for three full quarters. Tech outscored Salem in the fourth period, 24 to 14, to sew up the expected victory.

It was the 32nd win in a row for East Tech—home of former Olympic track star Jesse Owens—and sixth for this season.

The defeat snapped Salem's streak of 11 in a row at home and 22 straight in regular season play. Coach John Cabas' Quakers are now 3-1 for the season.

East Tech, led by Ken Glenn, 6-6, and Jim Stone, a 6-2 all state performer, got off slowly as the inspired Quakers built up a 39-29 halftime lead by shooting a sizzling 50 per cent.

Salem hit 16 of 32 shots from the floor in the first half while Tech was making 12 of 41.

Sparked by the floor play and scoring of Woody Deitch and Don Kritchbaum, and the rebounding efforts of giant center Lou Slaby, Salem kept its scoring assault at a hot pace for three quarters and led by one point, 45-44, heading in to the final eight minutes.

However, when the fourth quarter buzzer sounded the beginning of play, East Tech's vaunted offensive assault began to take form and with 4:32 left in the game, Tech had moved out to a 58-48 lead.

Both Stone and Ferguson, a 6-8 center, played a major part in East Tech's final quarter spree which left the Quakers out of contention after a hard battle.

Tech hit 7 of 24 shots in the third period, and really warmed up in the fourth by hitting 8 of 13.

Slaby turned in one of the best defensive performances in his career in waging a strong battle on the boards with the much taller Sacrats. Tech spotted Salem four inches per man with two cagers 6-foot 8-inches, another 6-6, and two 6-3 in the lineup.

Two of the Clevelanders tied for game point honors as Glenn, a southpaw forward who can hit consistently from the outside, and Ferguson each snarled 18 points.

Stone finished with 11, while Porter, a 6-3 guard, had seven. Sellers, 6-2, added eight and Franklin, 5-9 chipped in with four. Lane, a 6-8 forward, also broke into the East Tech scoring with a field goal.

Krichbaum and Hunter topped Salem's scoring with 14 points each, while Slaby finished with 13 in a well-balanced attack. Deitch had 12 and Clyde Marks, another starter, had six.

In the preliminary, the high-scoring East Tech reserves, led by a 6-4 freshman center, staved off a late bid by Salem's reserves to earn a 70-61 victory.

Midland Sportsmen Set Archery Shoot Monday

An archery shoot Monday night will open the indoor season of the Midland Sportsmen's Club, Anthony Flara reported today.

The shoot will begin at 7:30 p.m. and the opening night's shooting will be a 28 target flint round.

The group's clubhouse has been installed with adequate lighting facilities and a parking lot is available for shooters and visitors. National Field Archery Association rules will prevail for Monday night's shoot, Flara said.

Other indoor shoots will be held on each Monday, he added.

Navy Drops Baltimore For 1959 Home Games

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Navy will play none of its home football games in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium next year.

Alarmed by dwindling gate receipts, Naval Academy officials Friday announced that the only remaining 1959 game scheduled for Baltimore, against Maryland on Nov. 7, will be played instead in the new Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium here.

Pro Title Game Sunday

70,000 Expected For Giants-Colts

NEW YORK (AP) — The pro football season reaches its climax Sunday when the Baltimore Colts pit their wild West offense against the New York Giants' grudging defense in the playoff game for the championship of the National Football League.

The Colts, well rested after clinching the Western Conference title four weeks ago, are 3½ point favorites over the Giants who had to beat Cleveland three times to win the Eastern Conference crown.

With the help of the weatherman's friendly forecast of partly cloudy and mild, a near-capacity crowd of 70,000 plus will storm Yankee Stadium. This will be a happy sight for the players, as well as the owners, as the hired help get 70 per cent of the loot, including $200,000 for television rights.

All reserved and box seats held by the Giant office were sold early in the week. However, about 500 turned back by Baltimore went on sale at the Stadium this morning. Approximately 10,000 bleacher and standing room tickets will be available Sunday morning.

Each winning share should be worth about $4,600 and each loser about $3,000 if there is a sellout. Each would be a record, breaking last year's marks of $4,295 and $2,750 for Detroit and Cleveland.

New York area fans who are not at the Stadium will have to depend on the radio as the network (NBC) telecast will be blacked out in New York and a 75-mile surrounding area.

In addition to the prestige of a first league title and the riches to be shared by the winners, the Colts are anxious to get even with the Giants who handed them their first defeat 24-21, Nov. 9.

In case of a tie at the end of regulation play, they will continue until one team scores on a sudden-death basis. This never has happened in a playoff game.

Smith Sparks Leopards On 20 Markers

Hitting a scorching 41 per cent from the field, Midland's unbeaten Leopards disposed of Beaver Falls with surprising ease Friday night, 61-48, at Beaver Falls to push their victory string to seven straight.

Coach George Hamilton's cagers led by only nine points after three quarters, but put Beaver Falls out of contention with a fourth-quarter scoring spree.

Big Movie Smith, 6-4 junior center, dumped in nine field goals and hit two of five free throws for 20 points, which topped Midland's scoring attack.

Smith, always a consistent performer defensively, also led Midland in rebounding by pulling in 22 of Midland's total of 63. Smith boosted his point total in seven games to 111 or an average of 15.8 per game.

Behind Smith in scoring was junior forward Gene Lake, who hit for 14. Steve Yetso, who grabbed 15 rebounds, finished with nine points, and Nick Vuckovich eight.

Beaver Falls, hitting poorly from the floor, posted a very cold 29 per cent shooting average by goaling 17 of 59 shots. Niebala topped the scoring for Beaver Falls with 16 points.

Preliminary action found Midland's outstanding reserve team dropping its second game in seven starts to the Beaver Falls jayvees, 44-38.

Leading the scoring for the Midland reserves were Anderson with 13 and D'Angelo with 8 points.

No Yankee Offer For Cricket Star, Talbert Reports

BRISBANE (AP)—Bill Talbert, former U.S. Davis Cup captain turned informal baseball scout, said today the New York Yankees have not made a firm offer to Norman O'Neill, Australia's crack test cricketer.

This report was circulated after Talbert met with O'Neill in Melbourne this week to discuss the possibility of the cricket star having a tryout with the world baseball champions.

"This has been ballooned up far beyond its proper proportions," Talbert said.

"The Yankees merely are interested in finding out some things about this young man."

"I am not an expert but only a fan."

"Someone else would have to look him over to say whether or not he has promise of making the big leagues."

O'Neill, 21, from Adelaide in South Australia, plays baseball in the off season in one of the few Australian leagues.

He hit 400 last year and played shortstop for his team.

MacKay-Olmedo Set In Cup Singles Opener

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Barring late and unforeseen developments, it will be Barry MacKay and Peruvian Alex Olmedo in the opening singles matches for the United States Monday in the Davis Cup challenge round.

And the American camp, which has been under some strain because of indecision, braced itself for a possible explosion from Ham Richardson, the country's slighted No. 1 performer.

Richardson, 25, a former Rhodes Scholar from New Orleans had indicated he would be chagrined if he were not nominated for singles, but declined today to say until his next move would be until he is given official notice.

Rumors have it that Richardson might withdraw from doubles and with his wife, Anne, return immediately to the United States where he says he has job pressures.

able, and may be picked up at any time before Monday night's meeting.

Smallpox Claims Patient In Germany

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — An outbreak of smallpox in this headquarters city of the U. S. Army in Europe brought its first fatality today. A 72-year-old patient died in Ludolfskrehl Clinic where four doctors and several other employees have contracted smallpox.

City health authorities have ordered nine schools closed and have called for the vaccination of the entire population of 123,000, except for those with recent vaccinations.

A U. S. Army spokesman said no special vaccination is planned for American soldiers. He said the annual immunization and re-immunization of soldiers and their dependents offered sufficient protection.

FORTY GUNS and FRAULEIN

The young aide to Sen. Long (D-La) took the day off Friday and went to the races after failing to get a definite commitment from Capt. Perry Jones whether he would play.

The 70-year-old Jones continued to maintain strict secrecy on what tennis thoughts are bobbing through his head.

He indicated nobody, including the team itself may know his line-up until the official draw Sunday.

Richardson is slated to play the doubles with Olmedo.

With few problems, the heavily favored Australians, are tapering off for the three-defense of their trophy.

Wimbledon, U.S. and Australian champion Ashley Cooper and Mal Anderson will play singles — their last in Davis Cup competition — while Anderson and either Neale Fraser or Rod Laver will compete in the doubles.

City Firemen Called To Home, Apartment

Two minor calls were answered by city firemen Friday.

A fire in a mattress at the home of Earl Kidder, 1278 Erie St., was out on arrival, according to firemen who responded at 5:05 p. m.

An electric junction box shorted and caught fire in the apartment of C. M. Scott, 605 E. 5th St., at 7:20 p. m.

Tommy Kono has broken world records in four different weight divisions and has won world titles in five divisions.

Harvey Bennett, spare goaltender, is playing his 12th season with the Providence Reds of the American Hockey League.

'Sugar' Hart Beats Dupas

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Youth and punch beat youth and experience Friday night as Sugar Hart (Sugar) Hart of Philadelphia took a split decision over New Orleans welterweight, Ralph Dupas in a 10-round bout.

The defeat put an end to Dupas' boast that he never had lost to a welterweight, and the victory for Hart bolstered his position as a contender for Don Jordan's crown.

How soon the Philadelphia will get a title shot is problematical, but Harry Markson, International Boxing Club executive director who watched the fight, indicated Hart would have to wait a while at least.

It was a ding-dong battle from the start in Miami Beach Auditorium, and it was Hart's punching power — he had registered 20 knockouts in 29 previous fights — which was the difference.

Although Dupas is the same age as Hart—23—he started young and has had 90 bouts, exclusive of the Hart affair.

Referee Jimmy Peerless gave the fight to Dupas, 98-97, based on the 10-point "must" system for the winner of each round. Judge Gus Jacobson had Hart in front, 96-95, and Judge Stu Winston's card had Hart on top, 97-94. The Associated Press card had Hart winning 97-94.

The nationally televised bout drew 2,846 fans who paid $7,172.25 to see the ranking welter battle it out. Hart is rated No. 2 and Dupas No. 4.

5 Victims Of Cave-In Buried In Belgium

ZICHEN ZUSSEN BOLDER, Belgium (AP)—Five victims of an underground mushroom farm cave-in were buried today while rescue workers continued to dig with faint hope of finding survivors.

Officials said 18 persons were trapped by the collapse of tunnels last Tuesday. An emergency shaft was being sunk to a storage chamber in which rescuers hoped to find a few survivors.

Editor-Publisher Dies

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — John J. Sullivan, 93, editor and publisher of the Graettinger (Iowa) Times for more than five decades, died Thursday. Sullivan retired from the publication in 1952.

Harvey Bennett, spare goaltender, is playing his 12th season with the Providence Reds of the American Hockey League.

Midland Awaits Farrell's Holiday Cage Tournament

Midland High School's undefeated Leopards will be afforded a chance to snare statewide recognition when they play in one of Pennsylvania's top holiday basketball tournaments Monday and Tuesday at Farrell.

Besides Midland (7-0), the four-team tournament will also include two of western Pennsylvania's toughest clubs in Farrell (6-0) and defending WPIAL champion Charleroi, plus powerful Youngstown Chaney (5-0).

Coach George Hamilton's Leopards are pitted against Chaney—Youngstown's defending City Champions—in the tourney opener Monday night at 7:30.

Farrell and Charleroi will battle it out in the second game of Monday night's classic. The winners will meet in the second half of Tuesday's double bill for the tourney championship. Monday night's losers will meet in the preliminary Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

Midland draws one of the tourney's rangiest clubs in Chaney which is led by center Ron Sabo, 6-7, and Marty Pesut, a 6-foot guard. Both were All-City selections last year as juniors.

The players of the tournament's winning team will each be presented with individual trophies, the runner-up a single team trophy, and the third and fourth place teams will receive plaques.

Hamilton and his Midland squad will leave Monday and stay over at Farrell in a motel.

Rookie Shines As Warriors Bounce Back

By The Associated Press
The headlong plunge of the Philadelphia Warriors to the lower depths of the National Basketball Ass'n's Eastern Division has been stopped and it took a rookie to do it.

Young Guy Rodgers, a former All-America from Temple, put on a great performance Friday night leading the Warriors to a 106-93 victory over the New York Knicks at Hershey, Pa.

Rodgers scored 28 points, handed off a dozen assists and grabbed 11 rebounds.

Until they went into their tailspin a couple of weeks ago, the Warriors had compiled a 9-11 mark, which kept them within sight of the leaders. Now they are all but out of the running.

The Boston Celtics widened their lead in the Eastern Division by polishing off the Minneapolis Lakers, 107-91, and the Detroit Pistons whipped the Cincinnati Royals, 131-91, in a doubleheader in Detroit.

Bob Cousy and Frank Ramsey snuffed out a fourth quarter rally by the Lakers to lead the Celtics to their ninth straight triumph and 15th in their last 17 games.

The Royals made a battle out of their game with the Pistons for two periods. At the half, Detroit led, 53-51. But after that, the Pistons began to pour it on and had built up a 111-65 margin early in the fourth quarter.

Final Decision Slated On City Job Cutbacks

Council is scheduled to make a final decision Monday night on the personnel cutbacks that will be required at the beginning of 1959 for lack of funds.

Tentative decisions reached at another special session Friday, Dec. 19, will be subject to ratification. Instead of laying off 23 employees added to the payroll in mid-1958 because of added revenue from a city income tax, Council agreed tentatively to retain 4 of 9 new police, all 3 new firemen and the 10 school crossing guards.

If that decision is confirmed, the layoffs—effective Wednesday mid-night—will affect only five new police. Dog Warden Anthony Caparulo, also a new employee scheduled for layoff, will be transferred to fill a street department vacancy. Mayor Fred P. Lawrence indicated to Council.

The decision to retain most of the personnel previously threatened with layoff was made after Council learned its general fund will produce approximately $30,000 more than was appropriated for the year. Another $37,000 boost is expected in general fund revenue in 1959 because of reduced debt requirements. However, this will be used almost entirely to continue a 10 per cent pay boost given all municipal workers in mid-1958.

After the report of the anticipated new income, Council agreed tentatively that some of the workers could be retained at least through July 1.

Before the decision was reached, Council was scheduled to act on legislation that would have laid off all 12 new police and firemen. It would have cut the police department back to 22 men—the pre-tax level—and would have reduced the fire department to 28. If the police force is cut back by five, it will mean only a simple amendment in the wording of the pending legislation, Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper said.

French Cabinet Decisions Waited On Vital Matters

PARIS (AP) — An eight-hour Cabinet meeting in Premier De Gaulle's office broke up today with only a brief announcement that decisions had been taken on the 1959 budget and on economic and fiscal matters.

Frenchmen and foreign bankers thus were kept waiting amid wide speculation that the French franc might be cut in value and then replaced with a new franc.

President Rene Coty was scheduled to preside at another Cabinet meeting this afternoon to ratify the financial decisions. The word might be given out then or in a Sunday night radio and television address by De Gaulle.

Late Bidder May Ask Review Of Advertising

SALINEVILLE — A discussion of the recent award of a contract for a road maintainer is expected at a meeting of Council Monday night at 7:30 at the Village Hall.

Paul McCully, who submitted a bid for a road machine too late for consideration at the meeting Dec. 15, said he plans to attend. The contract was awarded to Howard Adams.

McCully last week contended the advertising for the bids was not in a newspaper of general circulation and that the specifications for the machine were restrictive.

Route 30 Relocation Hearing Set Jan. 12

LISBON — A public hearing will be held Jan. 12 at the Courthouse by the State Highway Department concerning the proposed relocation of Route 30 in Hamover Township for a distance of three-fourths of a mile near the Center Township line.

The proposal includes relocation of the highway to a new route somewhat south of the present section of roadway northeast from the west fork of Beaver Creek, and reversion of the present roadway to abutting property owners and the county highway department.

The hearing will be held at 1:30 p. m. at the office of the county commissioners.

Judge Gets Yule Card From Man He Jailed

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—U.S. District Court Judge Edward T. Gignoux last September sentenced Karol Van Collins to five years for an $80,000 York Harbor jewel theft.

The judge disclosed Friday he got a Christmas card from Van Collins which said "No hard feelings — honest."

15,000 Cards Mailed Can't Be Delivered

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The U.S. postmaster here has 15,000 excuses for folks who got Christmas cards but neglected to send any themselves.

The 15,000 Christmas cards, said Postmaster John F. Heneghan, are still in the post office. They can't be delivered because of incorrect or incomplete addresses, or illegible handwriting.
